News of the Morning.

The America, at Halifax, brings later news from England. Breadstuffs are firmer, with good demand. Great efforts will be made to prevent Prussia and Switzerland from coming to blows. Hostilities have broken out at Canton between the English and Chinese, and the city has been bombarded and stormed. Russia seems disposed to yield to the demands of the allies in regard to the Bessarabian frontier.

A tremendous snow storm prevailed all along the Atlantic sea-board, from Washington to Portland, on Saturday and Sunday last. Upwards of two feet of snow fell, blocking up the roads and obstructing the streets of the cities. Here we had clear and intensely cold weather.

We have no later news from Madison, in relation to the Senator, but the impression is that it may take a day, or two yet, to effect a choice.—Nothing of special interest from Washington.—Congress moves slowly.

F. S—By a despatch from Madison, received late last evening, we have the result of two more ballotings for Senator. They are as follows:

First ballot—Howe 26, Doolittle 24, Holton 20, Jackson 6, Randall 5.

Second ballot—Howe 25, Doolittle 25, Holton 21, Jackson 4, Randall 5, M. M. Strong 1.

New Standard of Orthodoxy.

The Elkhorn Independent, in the course of an article upon the U. S. Senatorship, discusses Judge Howe's political antecedents at length and thus "sums up" against him:

This shows that he has no sympathy with or for that kind of Republicanism represented by the Berlin Courant, Fond du Lac Commonwealth, Free Democrat, Kenosha Telegraph, this paper, the Monroe Sentinel, &c., and such men as Charles Durkee, E. D. Holton, Charles C. Sholes Judge Paine, &c. The State should now choose its ablest and at the same time most anti-slavery man for U. S. Senator. Judge Howe is not that man and this paper hopes he will not be chosen.

This is trying Judge Howe by a novel rule—not by the principles announced and the standard set up by the Republican party, State, or National, but by the peculiar views entertained by a number of presses and of leading men in this State, whose opinions are certainly deserving of respect and consideration, but are not entitled to be held up as the sole test of genuine Republicanism. We are not the champions of Judge Howe, or of any other gentleman, as a candidate for the U. S. Senate, but we certainly dissent from the doctrine that conformity to a particular "kind of Republicanism"—as distinct from that held and proclaimed by the whole party—is an indispensable pre-requisite for the Senatorship. To establish a new test of political orthodoxy now, in disposing of the public offices in the gift of the Republican party, different from that adopted and avowed at the opening of the campaign, would be neither just, nor politic. When we flung our standard to the breeze we cordially and explicitly invited the aid and co operation of men of all parties, creeds and countries, who agreed with us in the principles blazoned upon its folds, towards securing the success and ascendancy of those principles. Having triumphed by their help it would be a gross breach of faith and a grave error of judgement on our part, to undertake to rule out, from the honorable competition for public office, men who stood with us in the thickest of the fight, who gladly accepted the faith we proclaimed, but who do not concur in opinion, on some collateral questions, with a portion of the Republican Party. We trust that the Legislature will not try any such dangerous experiment.

Rival Leaders—Cabinet Troubles.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune thus lifts the curtain which veils from public view, the squabbles, jealousies and intrigues among the prominent leaders of the Sham Democracy. Between DOUGLAS and BUCHANAN, it is "a very pretty quarrel as it stands:"

"It is seldom that embryo quarrels of rival leaders are sufficiently exposed to the view of outsiders to be commented on in an intelligent or satisfactory manner. An exception to the ordinary condition of such a state of things has come to my knowledge. The feud between Douglas and Bright has risen to such a height as to get on to paper in the most authentic form. Bright is anxious to go into the Cabinet as Secretary of the Treasury, and expects to accomplish this object. Douglas is determined to keep him out. Important consequences in North Western politics may be expected to grow out of this incipient quarrel. Its intensity may be conceived when it is known that the principals in it have ventured to commit themselves to paper. Mr. Buchanan is not only afflicted by this quarrel, but he is ill imbued by another embarrassment. He had determined to give a place in his Cabinet to one of the Old-Line Whigs, well knowing the obligations he was under to them in Kentucky, Tennessee and Pennsylvania.—This was what he meant in his little speechlet to the students several weeks ago. It is what Mr. Breckinridge advised also. The choice lay between Col. Preston of Ky., and Wm. B. Reed of Penn. Several of the most distinguished Old Line Whigs have been urging on the President elect the claims of the one and the other. It will suit Mr. Bright best to have Mr. Reed taken, and this is Mr. Buchanan's own preference. But the complications of the question have resulted in a serious doubt, whether either of these gentlemen, or any Whig at all, will be selected. The placid exterior of affairs touching the Cabinet, which Mr. Buchanan has endeavored to preserve, covers the most seething and ungovernable currents underneath. When the job is done, and the fog lifts, we shall behold a perfect Charybdis, with lots of fellows whirling through on broken spars and pieces of wreck, some of whom may come to land, and some of whom will not.

La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R.—The N. Y. Tribune of the 15th inst., in its money article, has the following remarks upon the La Crosse and Milwaukee Rail Road:

The La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad was opened 61 miles west of Milwaukee to Beaver Dam on the 30th April last. During a portion of December about 80 miles have been worked. It has been in operation, consequently, eight months. During this time it has earned, gross, $417,000. This is from local business alone, as it has no important termination, which it will have when it reaches Portage City, 95 miles west of Milwaukee. The result is a very favorable one, and shows the great resources of the country through which it runs. The road has cost, for the 61 miles built, including equipment and fixtures, and its proportion of depot grounds at Milwaukee, $20,917 per mile. This includes also side tracks. At this rate 61 miles built have cost $1,340,000. This expenditure is moderate, when we take into account the difficulty of negotiating railroad securities. The road is operated very cheaply; wood obtained on the line for $1 to $1 12½ per cord. Forty per cent of the receipts, it is estimated, will cover the working expenses. The following are the results for the eight months.

Earnings per mile, nearly	$7,000
Gross earnings on the capital	25 ₩ cent
Net earnings on the stock, deducting interest on bonds for 8 months and working expenses at 45 ₩ cent.	22½ ₩ cent

The road runs through the finest region of ... of the most thickly settled

FROM OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14, 1856.

Another week of this short session has passed away, with scarcely any business done, leaving only some seven weeks before the termination of the 34th Congress. A large amount of work has been matured in the different committees, waiting merely the opportunity to be brought before the two Houses for final action; but an unaccountable unwillingness to do anything or else quite as unaccountable an inability so to regulate the proceedings as to ensure some decision upon some useful practical object, seems to pervade the Senate and the House, and meanwhile tempus fugit.

The Iowa contested Election case with—earlier in the week—the Revolutionary Pension Bill, have mainly occupied the attention of the Senate. Upon the former a vote will probably be taken Monday or Tuesday, and will result in the ejection of Mr. Harlan, the present Republican U. S. Senator, who will thereupon go home, be re-elected by the Legislature now in session, and receive some two thousand dollars additional mileage when he resumes his comfortable Senatorial chair. The fate of the Revolutionary Pension Bill is—extraordinary as it may seem—somewhat more doubtful, though the probabilities are in favor of its passage. It seems a strange, and, with due respect to be spoken, a very mean and narrow-minded policy which, with an overflowing treasury, would oppose the payment of what, though perhaps, not strictly speaking a legal, is certainly an equitable and righteous obligation. A contract, performed, as no one will deny, to the utmost on the part of the brave men of the Revolution, but never fulfilled in its fair acceptation by the Government, is sought to be got rid of by arguments as intolerable as they are, in most instances, inaccurate and untrue. In this crusade for the evasion of a just debt, foremost in the field have been Toombs of Ga., Clay of Ala., Pugh of Ohio, and Mason of Va., who, with a pertinacity worthy of a better cause, have fought the Bill at every step.

So just a measure, however, and one which would seem to appeal to the sympathies, the justice and patriotism of all who know anything of this country's history, has not been without worthy defenders, pre-eminent among whom was Gov. Seward of N. Y., who in an interesting historical sketch of the revolutionary struggle, composed mainly of extracts from the letters of WASHINGTON, showed conclusively that the pledge by Congress of half-pay for life to the officers, who served throughout the struggle, was the turning point in the fortunes of the war.—The speech was listened to with great attention and cannot but exert a material influence upon the final result which is awaited with great anxiety. The House, with the exception of Tuesday—when Stephens of Geo., made one of his characteristic speeches in defence of the President's libellous message, followed by Winter Davis of Maryland, in a far abler and convincing exposition of its calumnies and untruths—has been principally occupied with the private calendar, and a number of private bills were finally disposed of. An effort will be made next week to get at the River and Harbor bills which it has been agreed upon, by the friends of internal improvements, to unite in one omnibus bill, to be sent to the President for his veto, and then, if possible, passed over his head. This, if all the internal improvement men stand firm, can be done, and it is the only course left—for to pass the bills separately, in the face of a determined opposition, would monopolize the rest of the session. I will send in my next letter, a list of all the appropriations recommended by the committee on commerce, through its intelligent and influential chairman, E. B. Washburn of Illinois, which will be included in the bill as prescnted—subject of course to such amendment to assist particular localities, as may, by the House, be deemed desirable. A strenuous effort will be made, however, to keep out all questionable appropriations, so as to secure the support of every true friend of the internal improvement policy.

No little excitement was created in the House, Friday, by an article from the N. Y. Times charging corrupt practices on the part of certain Members; and the excitement became still more intense when Mr. Paine of North Carolina, stated the fact that an attempt had been made by a brother member to purchase his vote. Of course a committee of investigation was appointed, and in relation to the result, there are many speculations It seems to be understood that the Bill in support of which Mr. Paine's vote was desired, was the Minnesota Land Bill—in fact it was so stated by the gentleman himself, with the sum $1500,00 which could be had for the vote. The member referred to as having made the offer, denies the fact, alledging that his conversation must have been strangely misapprehended, no idea that Mr. Paine could be bribed, ever entered his mind, or if it had, that he had any desire or authority to make such, or any offer for a vote. It does not appear, therefore, as if anything of consequence can be elicited, but this result will surely be attained—the Minnesota Land Bill will be killed beyond peradventure, as it ought to be, and the Pacific R. R. Bill will in all probability, share the same fate.

It is quite possible, if the Committee make thorough work of it, that some very questionable matters may be brought out; but the terms of this resolution exclude all past legislation, pointing only to matters now pending before Congress, and in relation to these, it is unlikely that the parties concerned in the alledged corruption can be detected and exposed. The move was needed earlier, and will have a good effect in more ways that one.

The results of the Senatorial elections have been received with interest here. Mr. Sumner receiving the almost unanimous endorsement of Massachusetts, for another six year term, and Mr. Simmons being selected to replace Gen. James of R. I. who, on all accounts, ought to have been displaced from the position he occupies, with Preston King from N. Y., Judge Howe from your own State, Mr. Dixon from Connecticut, Gov. Hamlin from Maine, and a true man to replace Gen. Cass, the friends of freedom in the Senate will present an imposing array, destined soon, it cannot be doubted, to overcome the majority now in power, and to rescue that body from the slave driving rule which has so disgraced the latter history of the Country.

A desperate effort, in which Mr. Buchanan has thought it not unbecoming to take open part, is making to elect John W. Forney, the writer of the Jamcison Forrest letter, to succeed Mr. Brodhead who is to be pensioned with an inferior office. If accounts received here, however, can be relied upon, this effort will fail, as it surely ought to do, and the probability is that no election will be made. REX.

The Late Judge Prentiss.

The telegraphic despatches a few days since announced the death of Judge Prentiss of Vermont. Judge P., for several years prior to his election as U. S. Senator, was one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of his State, and it is not too much to say that he was, at least, among the ablest of that long list of eminent jurists who have given a character to the Judicial decisions of Vermont, not surpassed by that of any of her sister States.

In 1830 he was elected U. S. Senator, and for eleven succeeding years he was the worthy compeer of Webster, Calhoun, Clay and Wright, and although as remarkable for his modesty, as for his eminent worth, it is doing them no injustice to say that as a constitutional lawyer he was their equal.

In 1842 he was appointed U. S. Judge for the District of Vermont, which office he adorned until his death.

Eminent as he was in the distinguished positions he held and in which every Vermonter felt a just pride, he equally adorned his position as a private citizen, and was a remarkably exemplary man, as a husband, father, friend and christian.

I did not design to write a eulogy. I should have preferred to have said nothing, but for the notice in the Wisconsin, of Friday, to which my attention has just been called, containing a calumny as false, as it is scandalous, and which, as a Vermonter, I cannot allow to pass unnoticed.

The House of Mourning.

BY G. W. C

I looked in the house of mourning.
As I passed by the open door,
And the scene of distress
Left its deep impress
On my heart for evermore.

'Twas scarce the hour of twilight,
But the night of death was there;
For the unlit hall
Held a sable pall,
And a corse lay on its bier

No showy outward tokens
Announce a spirit fled;
Nor nodding plume,
Nor lights illume,
When the lowly mourn their dead.

A fond and widowed mother
Had parted with her breath,
And the Orphan's wail
Of anguish fell
On the "dull cold ear of death."

O, the sting of death hath a venom,
For the poor, no tongue can tell!
For the wealth of love
Is all they have,
And they shrink at the funeral knell.

There was the elder sister,
Now guardian of the flock;
So mute her grief,
It seemed her life
Had passed in the direful shock.

She sat in fearful silence
And gazed upon the bier;
She breathed no sigh,
And her vacant eye
Was refused the moistening tear.

In her agony of sorrow
Another wailed aloud;
And with drooping head
One bent o er the dead,
And with tears bedewed the shroud.

The little ones were moaning,
But none their meanings child;
And the youngest boy,
His choicest toy
Had placed on the coffin lid.

"Mother, awake!" he's crying,
"They say that you are dead,
"But the supper hour
"Has long passed over,
"And your darling is not fed!"

And the shades of night descended,
And hushed is the house o death;
For a whisper soft
Is heard aloft,
Borne on a spirit breath.

"Look up! Look up, my darlings!
"Who sit in the darkened room;
"For a distant light
"Is gleaming bright,
"And piercing through the gloom!"

"Look up! Look up, my children!
"To that beaming ray of love:
"Though dark and drear
"Is the chamber here,
"There's light for you above!"

MEN AND THINGS IN GOTHAM.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12th, 1857.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Thus far hath Gotham progressed in the great unrolling process of time, and the events which have marked her history for the last few weeks are known to all and uncomparatively old, leaving Viola nothing new to tell and to ask but the kindness of your indulgent readers towards a letter, like so many other letters, made up only of words. Many things of late have partially convulsed our sensitive community; how far back on the page of history I can be allowed to go, is a matter of doubt to me; my sense of propriety says not far, and here I regret not having composed four letters in the past month, that my inroads into the ancient, might not partake so much of the character of Babylonian Excavations, they perhaps will now. The pick of the gravedigger in "Hamlet," struck on the cranium of "poor Yorick" and a funeral discourse on the subject immediately followed the melancholy incident, and if my delving implement should grate harshly against the skull of the Republican Ball of last year, I should like to know whose business it is whether I choose to discourse sweetly or iralely on the musty theme or neither? Very well then, that Ball came round like the skull of "Yorick," according to promise and only needed more company and more calorie to have been worthy of the great Republican victory in honor of which it was given. 'Twas my first "Ball" and as this is the season of the entire tribe, you may change its date to last night and perhaps enjoy a laconic description of it with fresher interest in consequence. The stage extremity of the "Academy," sides and ceilings were canopied with exquisite taste, the "tout ensemble" wearing the appearance of an immense tent: the raised throne therein and the entrance thereto, transplanted one to the tropics, so profuse was the array of every variety of hot house plant and flower, breathing sweet incense on the air, amidst bursts of music and the rush of many feet in the brain turning dance.—And who should appear in the great tent, but the gallant path finder and Jessie of the noble face and form; they were both there, and the chandeliers blazed, and the guests applauded, and the dance went on, and the night wore off, and the thing was done, and apart from no head and bad management, why the great Republican Ball was a very fine thing in its way after all.

My next antique might be the "John Halifax" controversy and the number of Donkeys it exhumed from our midst, but I spare you, remarking meekly "empassant" that the poor man was compelled the real authoress, modest "Dinah Mulock," from the other side of the water, to put forth gently her claims to her own brain product.

The verdict of guilty in the Huntington case acted as an emollient to the exasperated feelings of the people while listening to the insane plea of the prisoners, sapient counsel, Brady, and testimony of those old fogies, Dr. Gilman and Parker in favor of its probability in the prisoner's case. Had the forger been acquitted the lawyers and doctors would have been called wise instead of fools, and the Dr.'s would not have had all the "medicals" down on them, protesting as they are now doing against the reception of their sentiments by the public as the opinions of the faculty. Two of the jurors were in favor of acquitting the culprit on the ground of insanity, and one in favor of a total acquittal; how their obstinacy was overcome is not known. One item for the gossips divulged by the trial, was the fact of the great financier having for his witness, the somewhat extensively known Miss Eloise Bryages (otherwise Mrs. Johnson) who a year or two since, astonished her friends by seeking the stage for support; her associations in life having been amongst what is called our best society, which by the way often bears the kind of fruit above described.

The holidays went and came like an annual epidemic. There was an immense display of the gorgeous, looking out inanimately from shop windows, on the gathering without, appealing in language stronger than words to their tenderest sensibilities and not in vain. The era of auction sales of "vertu," and marble statuary ground out of mills like marbles, dawned anew; retail and wholesale contributors, knowing well the weakness or infatuation which leads so many to believe that whatever is bought at auction, from a door plate with "Thompson" on it, up, must be cheap, with the auctioneer being the only ones benefited thereby. Dreamy attempts at the holiday pantomines were made in a dramatic way, but like most of Boan Brummels "ties," did not succeed.

The outside excitement of the season was marred for want of snow, so we were deprived of the usual Broadway Carnival, mixed up with fun and rowdyism; and on the whole most people rejoiced at the deprivation. The new year broke charmingly on our world, which was astir from early morn to midnight hour socially inclined. 'Tis almost the only day of the year when the live picture we gaze on is deprived of and to an observing eye the dark shadow resting thereon is no less striking, than it is strange and unpleasant. It is however, endurable, when one reflects, that the loss is but for a day and actually amounts in the end to a gain.

Gotham waxes strong as years roll on, but this time honored custom, born at its infancy, is still in vogue, the last link that binds us to the past, full of simplicity and innocent beauty. Men sometimes cling to straws, so let us hold fast to this olden relic—slight tho' it may be, it is the key which unlocks the heart for a little while and clears it of all the cobwebs which vanity, pride, riches and folly have stored there for our destruction, the 12 months past.

Since the 1st, the winter, which lingered far away, has visited us in earnest, bringing in its train all the horrors of coast exposure and death, the details of which would fill a book I should neither care to write or read. It is the same dreadful story from year to year, for the repetition of which our Government, as well as our city, are, in a great measure, responsible; but I fear the day is not destined to come when it will cease to be issued in its present stereotyped form. The rivers are once more one immense ice field, obstructing navigation, detaining business men going to and fro, and making ferry boats, as well as New York suburbs, one unmitigated nuisance. Some insane individual seriously contemplates keeping the "Hudson" open during the winter by means of an immense iron pipe, steam heated, and leading from Troy to this place, asking as a return to defray the expenses, tolls from vessels, on the river. This seems very like the project of somebody else, to bore the Empire State from Albany to Niagara Falls, for a shaft to an immense wheel to take the whole power of the Falls, enabling folks, desirous of using it, to belt on at the Albany end.

The New Year brought over 200 changes in the mercantile world—an unusually large number,—but not showing, as some have said, the rapid growth of our city in a business point of view, as 99 out of a 100 of the new firms have grown out of, or are modifications in some way of the old ones, and with generally a decrease of capital. It is a noticeable fact that very few houses of much calibre are ever formed here from foreign materials, as is the case in western and newer communities.

The wholesale abuse of the Executive clemency by our late Governor has been the subject of general condemnation. Several of the released criminals have just shown their appreciation of it by an immediate return to their evil deeds. Where it is so difficult to meet out justice to murderers and burglars as it is here, it does indeed seem a deed fraught with dreadful import for any man to step in between the law and its victim. The horrors of the "Poole" tragedy are all cut on bail, and the most desperate of them, "Paudeen," has been rearrested for the commission of a violent assault in our streets. Ruffianly assaults in our most prominent thoroughfares, have blotted the clean page of the new year to an extent without a precedent. Capt. Hamilton, Mr. S. C. Herring and other prominent individuals, have been beaten and robbed in Broadway in such a manner as leads all to suppose that life is no where safe under our present regime. The London method of attack is now resorted to here, and villains use the "Garrote" with perfect impunity. The choking process is done either with the hands, or a frame work of wood made for the purpose, and we shall soon understand what "Punch" said on the subject, when it advised Gents, in the streets, to wear spiked collars as a necessary defence.

We have all felt deeply the attention paid by the British Government to Capt. Hartstein of the "Resolute," and, no doubt, when the "Retribution" arrives in our waters, the compliment will be returned with interest. May it be so, and there be nothing to mar the bond of unity, which, whatever we may say or do, so closely connects us with "the fast anchored Isle."

The new English Minister, Hon. Chas. Pelham Villiers, comes soon with the promise of a life of usefulness and ability to our Capital, and few of his country have had so warm a welcome in advance, without a gain saying remark.

For other topics I must refer you to my next. VIOLA.

It will be seen that Wisconsin was the destination of a larger number of emigrants than any other State in the Union, with the single exception of New York. Our share was 13,327, who brought with them, in cash means, nearly two millions of dollars—an average of $148,80 per head. Surely such an immigration is rather to be invited and welcomed, than resisted and driven back.

From the Boston Atlas, Jan. 14th.

Hon. Charles Sumner.

The Senate of Massachusetts, yesterday, by a unanimous vote, every Senator being in his seat and responding to his name, re-elected the Hon. Chas. Sumner to the United States Senate for the term of six years from the fourth of March next. By this concurrence with the action of the House on Friday, the Senate has fittingly expressed the wishes and hindicated the honor of Massachusetts. The representative of her State sovereignty—assailed and stricken down in person—goes back to Congress with such an endorsement as no Senator ever yet received from his constituency.

SWITZERLAND AND PRUSSIA.—The Swiss Army can muster at the best but 280,000, the Prussian corps 550,000, or more than twice as many.—The Prussians are the best trained soldiers in Europe, and the Army is their regular profession. The Swiss are Watchmakers, Herdsmen, Vinedressers, Students, &c., called from their avocations and families to the unusual hardships of war. These are their disadvantages. Their advantages are, that while the Prussians fight on foreign soil for the pay of a drunken King, whom they detest, the Swiss fight on their own inaccessible Alps in defence of their Homes and

The Discredited Banks—All Take except the Stock Security Bank of Danville.

We have better news this morning relative to the discredited Illinois Banks. One or two of the city banks continued to receive the notes of all of them from their regular customers, Saturday throughout, and before the close of banking hours others followed the example. The notes of the Stock Security Bank, we are informed, will not be received hereafter, or at least not until some satisfactory arrangement shall have been made with reference to the California securities held by the Auditor on account of that bank. The Marine Bank, R. K. Swift, Brother & Johnston, Hoffmann & Gelpeke, E. I. Tinkham & Co., the Bank of Commerce and Officer & Brother, receive their notes of the Rushville Bank, the Prairie State Bank, and the People's Bank, from their regular customers.—This secures their reception at par in all business transactions.

We are much gratified to state that the flurry in regard to the above banks does not seem to have impaired the public confidence in the other stock-secured banks of the State. It is to be hoped that the excitement will entirely pass away in a day or two.—Chicago Dem. Press Jan 19.

A MAN SAVED FROM THE SCHOONER IOWA.—The Buffalo Courier, of Wednesday morning, says, a gentleman in this city received the unexpected news last evening, that the Steward of the schooner Iowa had been almost miraculously saved. His name was Theodore La Corguy, and he writes from Detroit, giving the particulars of his escape from the wreck. He says that at the time of the wreck, he was in the cabin and as the water was running in quite freely, he went on deck. The sea was breaking over the vessel, and he was unable to stand. He bethought him of the provision box, and by some means succeeded in reaching it. He crept into it, and in a few hours found himself on land, the lake on one side and a forest on the other. There was nothing in the box except one ham, and this was his only food for two days, during which he travelled in the woods. At the expiration of this time he came across an Indian who kindly took him to his cabin, and took care of him during an illness of several weeks. The Indian then took him to Mackinaw, from whence he came to Detroit, where he is now in a destitute condition. His friends here will send for him. It is not known that any other person on board the Iowa was saved. The schooner and all hands went down. So says the Detroit Free Press of the 16th.

CONUNDRUMS.—1. When the seven wise men of Greece met the sages of Hindoostan, what did they do?

2. Why is a man never hungry on the border of a lake?

1. They all ate sausages—They all eight saw sages.

2. Because there is a banquet at his feet—A bank, wet, at his feet.

Review of Markets, for the Week ending Jan 20.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL,
MILWAUKEE January 20, 1857.

By LaCrosse & Milwaukee R. R.—260 bbls flour, 80 tons pig iron, 3,020 lbs sealers, 22 sacks flour, 27 hides, 3 bdls pelts, 16,180 lbs sundries

Watertown Division—36 bbls flour, 385 bus wheat, 6 bags flour, 1,400 lbs sundries.

By Mil. & Horicon R. R.—4,300 bu wheat, 202 bbls flour, 110 hides, 10 sheep pelts, 14 deer skins, 68 bus barley, 330 lbs sundries.

With moderate receipts and an active demand our Market during the past week has been quite animated, and prices have been very firmly maintained. For choice Spring WHEAT 92a98 cents was paid yesterday, and $1,00 a1,10 for Winter. BARLEY continues in active request at 1,35a1,50, according to quality. OATS, RYE and CORN are in good demand at our quotations. The supply of Hogs is unequal to the demand, and good lots sell quick at 3a3,25. For City Mess Pork $22 00 per bbl is demanded—an extreme price for this market. For other quotations see below.

Money is very stringent and some uneasiness felt about Illinois currency. Business is good for the season, but collections slow and difficult, and failures more frequent than agreeable.

The Rail Roads all suffer, more or less, by the extreme cold weather and the accumulation of snow. The winter has been a hard one for them and for the lumbering interests. The farmers, however, have found their account in it.

FLOUR—Receipts from the country of about 2000 bbls during the week. We quote superfine at 4a4,50; country extra $5a5,50; city do 5,50a6 00.

WHEAT—The receipts reach about 45,000 bus for the week, and we note an active demand at 1cent higher than the previous week. We quote spring at 90a93, and winter at 95a110, according to quality.

BARLEY—Receipts limited—a prime article brings 1,40a 1,50—inferior slow of sale at 1,20a1,25.

Sugars remain firm at previous quotations, though sales as usual at this season, are limited. An advance of ¼c on Raw and ⅛c on Refined has taken place in New York since January 1st, which will have a tendency to strengthen prices.

A few new crop New Orleans sugars have been sold in Chicago, from first hands, at about the same rates that our merchants are selling P. R. and Muscovado, and a small lot of new crop Molasses in that market brought 39c, which was about the New Orleans cost and expenses. We do not change our quotations.

POLICE COURT, JANUARY 19.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

A man named John Russell was fined $5 and costs for an assault and battery upon Theodore Snitz.

John Linahan, charged with being drunk and disorderly, discharged for want of prosecution. This man, when arrested on Saturday night and taken to the Watch House on being asked what trade he had, answered that he had none, he was "viol player." Policeman. "What in thunder's that?" Prisoner. 'Shure don't you know what a fiddler is?' The man was satisfactory and we suppose he would be entered upon the Station book as a professor of music.

CIRCUIT COURT—Jan. 19.

HON. A. W. RANDALL, PRESIDING.

William McGlathery indicted at the present term of the Court for larceny in a vessel, stealing a barrel of flour from the Propeller Alleghany was brought up from Jail, and having withdrawn his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty, and was sentenced by the Court to two years imprisonment in the State Prison, the last three days of the term to be in solitary confinement.

Francis Flannegan convicted of larceny in a dwelling house was sentenced to one year and six months in the State Prison.

State of Wisconsin vs. John and Rocka C. Shultz, indicted for robbing Anton Roth in the town of Milwaukee. Cause in progress.

In the case of Edward Dawson and Michael Biggins one of their Counsel, Mr. Corson has applied for a new trial, on the ground o a claimed error or errors in the charge of the Judge. The motion is to be argued this Tuesday morning.

A quasi criminal trial of the greatest importance is set down for to-morrow, Wednesday morning. The state of Wisconsin vs. Peter Yates, indicted for obstructing the Milwaukee River. The District Attorney will be assisted by one or two members of the Milwaukee bar and by the City Attorney; Mr. Yates besides his own well known talent as a lawyer, has engaged the services of JAMES S. BROWN, Esq., to defend him.

Shocking Calamity—two Men Killed—Narrow Escape of the Third.

Yesterday evening about 6 o'clock, two Germans employed as masons on an arched cellar, being built on the corner of Main and Johnson Streets, for Mr. Gallelier, of the Washington Brewery, were killed by the falling of either the dirt or arch.

The first one was imbedded up to his neck, and called to the others—"Brothers come and help me." The other one ran to help him, when more of the earth and arch fell and both were completely imbedded, killing them instantly. A third who ran with the second to the assistance of the first man, was partly buried in the falling earth, but succeeded by a desperate struggle in treading up the dirt as it fell, and managed to extricate himself, leaving his boots in the ground and part of his pantaloons.

The bodies of the two men were dug out as soon as possible. They were both married men, one having been married only four weeks, and the other less than two weeks. We were unable to learn their names.

MURDER OR MANSLAUGHTER.—We were informed yesterday that an examination was to be held before Justice Shumway, of Wauwatosa, in which a man named Albright was charged with the murder or manslaughter of his son, a small boy, by striking him on the head, and fracturing his skull with a hammer or axe.

The boy, we are informed, was sent by his father several days ago for some whiskey, and returned unable to get it; whereupon it is claimed the father struck him on the head, inflicting a wound that caused his death, which occurred on Friday last.

An inquest was held and the father arrested. Mr. Bearsell was sent for to defend the accused.

FANNY KEMBLE'S READINGS.—The promised course of Shakespearian Readings by Mrs. FANNY KEMBLE, will commence at Young's Hall this evening with "Coriolanus." A large number of seats have already been secured, and there is no doubt that the course will be fully attended. The Readings commence punctually at half-past 7 o'clock, by which time it is to be hoped that the audience will all be seated. Tickets for the Course ($3,00) may be obtained and seats secured at Hempstead's Music Store. Single tickets (50 cents) for sale at the door.

NO. ONE'S BALL.—No effort is to be spared to make Number One's Annual Festival, next Thursday evening, the Ball of the Season. The splendid Hall in "the Albany," which is to be used for the first time on that evening, will be fitted and furnished, in appropriate style, by BRAMAN & WING. The supper and refreshments will be provided by BALDEN, of the "Home," and it is enough to say that whatever he undertakes is well and thoroughly done. The Great Western Band supply the music, which will be of the best. Buy your tickets in season.

SALOM'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE.—MR. SALOM, who has been engaged as a Private Teacher in our City for two years past, has opened Rooms on Spring Street, next West of the Bridge, and is prepared to give instruction in Book Keeping, &c. His method is good, his terms moderate, and the location of his rooms pleasant and convenient. See his card, in our advertising columns.

THE "CARNEVALS-VARIN."—Such is the name of a new German Society which made its appearance in our streets yesterday, in a procession of fifteen or twenty well filled sleighs, preceded by a band of music. The members were quaintly dressed and bent on fun. We understand that they have a grand celebration on the 24th of February.

GALVANISM.—A detail of Dr. Boynton's experiments to-morrow evening, for his extra lecture, will be found in our advertising columns. From the notices of this exhibition at Chicago, we judge it to be one of rare interest and value. The Battery is a new invention, and, said to be the most powerful in the United States. The Balloon ascension closes the exhibition.

EXTREME COLD.—The weather for three days past has been intensely cold. Yesterday and Sunday mornings the mercury at 8 o'clock, ranged from 16 to 18 degrees below zero, in different exposures about the city. Last night it was more moderate and looked like snow.

SCALING FLOUR.—A man named Thomas O'Donnell, generally known as "Erin go Bragh," was arrested yesterday evening by Policemen Meyers and Beasley, for stealing a barrel of flour from Nichols Warehouse, on Walker's Point. He was taken to the Watch House and locked up for the night.

SALOM'S
MERCANTILE COLLEGE!

A Perpetual Ticket for $25!

GENTLEMEN desirous of acquiring a thorough Mercantile Education, are assured that the advantages presented at this institution are unsurpassed.

The Principal takes this opportunity to acknowledge the courtesy of several of the most distinguished Shipping and Jobbing Houses in the East, who recently allowed him to examine their books, besides explaining many original plans for economizing labor, which, adopted as in some instances after the experience of half a century, may be justly designated the ne plus ultra of the art.

These advantages, grafted upon Mr. SALOM'S long practical experience in a variety of Counting Houses, have enabled him to elaborate a novel and valuable series of transactions, introducing all the great leads and ramifications of mercantile routine to be early developed by the student. A perpetual ticket confers the privilege of instruction in Book-Keeping at all times, as well as tuition in Writing, Mercantile Calculations, Law, Correspondence Forms, &c.

The Surveying and Mathematical department is in progress during the day and evening.

CITY LAND AND EXCHANGE OFFICE,
MICHIGAN ST., ALBANY BUILDINGS
MILWAUKEE - - WISCONSIN.

I HAVE been absent from our beautiful city for some three weeks in New York city and other cities east, on business which is for the general interest of our city. I expect to be home in eight or ten days, and will not be prepared to attend to my business as usual. I would give notice to all my fellow-citizens who have property in city and in country for sale, to have their list made out so that I can have it in time to enter upon the business for spring sales. There will be one grand rush to our city this year. My office is now to one of the most beautiful stores on Michigan Street, in the Albany Buildings, next to Mitchell's new Bank, directly opposite to Bowman's Hotel, where I now can receive all who have business in my line with comfort; and where they can have an opportunity to find out everything relating to real estate, both generally.

I also give my attention to the purchasing and selling of bonds and mortgages, and collecting of notes, &c., &c. In the course of time I intend to have Real Estate for sale of real estate, stocks, &c., &c., at public auction.

The City Land and Exchange Office I design to be a general place, where all can come and transact business in real estate, bonds, mortgages, &c., &c. It is to be a central part of the city. As soon as I have taken is eighty feet front. I intend to have it comfortably arranged, and all who have business in my line are cordially invited, and any information that they may want, such I can give, I will give it with pleasure.
CALEB WALL,
Land Agent and Broker.

City Land Office.
AND EXCHANGE OFFICE.

I NOW REMOVED to one of the new and beautiful store rooms on Michigan street, in Albany building, directly opposite the Newhall House.

The room I have taken is next to Mitchells New Banking House; it is very large, and I intend to arrange it with comfort and convenience, and I would also say that I will give strict attention to the selling of Real Estate, to collecting and negotiate for Bonds, Mortgages and Stocks, will also contract for the sale of all descriptions of Dry Goods or Merchandize of any character, will advance money on Stocks of goods, or purchase them, will collect notes and accounts in our city, and will make advances on them.

Having lived in this city going on fifteen years, and engaged in this line of business, my acquaintance is extensive, sufficient for me to say that I can give any information that any one may want. All business left with me will be disposed of with despatch and promptness, as always has been my course.

Any one who has any goods and wants to raise money on them, I will do it. Anything to have our people look cheerful, I am ready to do.

Any one who has a stock of Goods and thinks it is an up hill business to go on, can call on me, I will help him out. In fact I am ready to help any person.

The Commercial Course embraces Book-Keeping by Double Entry, in its various forms, as adapted to Wholesale, Retail, Commission, Manufacturing, Custom House, Banking, Railroading, in short, Partnership, and compound Company business; Commercial calculations in per centage, Exchange, Bank and Regular Discounts, Averaging, Accounts by Single and Compound Equations, &c., &c., together with the most approved methods.
